Dear Earl,

Once again we are coming to the end of another contracting phase and year with BDM Corporation. I would like to take this opportunity to appraise you of our complete satisfaction with the results of the work your firm is performing for my staff. Bob MacOnie has performed outstanding work in the analysis and documentation of the Intelligence Community Telecommunications Issues Study. His ability in the development of the methodology, defining significant issues, and his perception in drafting the recommendations have contributed greatly to the value of this report to the Intelligence Community. I would also like to pass along to you Vice Admiral Burkhalter's comment that the study was "an excellent piece of work." Without Bob's support throughout this endeavor, we would have not received this praise.

We have also received excellent support from Bob Smith. Bob has been very innovative in his support to the CIRS computer security effort. He has worked very capably and well with our CIRS Security Working Group and has contributed greatly to our efforts to solve some very complex issues.

I thank you and BDM for the highly professional manner in which you have supported the IHC over the past several years.

Very truly yours,

STAT
